YOU ARE A BRICK.

A certain College Professor had assembled his class at the commencement of the term, and was reading over the list of names to see that all were present. It chanced that one of the number was unknown to the Professor, having just entered the class. #### COMPLIMENT TO "JOUR. PRINTERS."

John C. Rives, in a recently pub lished letter, on the subject of public ment to the "jour." whose duty it not down our price very low, as we intend selling to none unfrequently is to make sense out of very senseless chirography. None but a writer for the daily press, can comprehend how much truth there is in the veteran printer's remark. Many members of Congress, and eke not a few greater men, must have been surprised at the respectable figure they cut in print, without thinking of the toilsome labor, and the exercise of better talent than their own, which had been expended by the "jour." HAS for sale all the Spelling books; Geographics, printer, in licking into shape the message, report or speech furnished by them. Mr. Rives says:

"I have seen the manuscript writing of most great men of the country during the past twenty years, and think I may say, that no twenty of them could stand the test of the scrutiny of one-half of the journeymen printers employed in my office. "This fact will be vouched by every editor in the Union. To the poor "jour." many a "great man" owes his reputation for scholarship, and were "SQUATTERS OF THE TERRITTORY," the humble type-stickers to resolve, by concert, to set up manuscript in there would be more reputations slaughtered than their devils could shake a stick at in twenty-four hours. "Statesmen" would become "small by degrees and forwarding remittances to any part of the Union. and beautifully less." Many an ass would have the lion's hide torn from his limbs.
